LAKE TRAVIS FICTION WRITERS

TUESDAY, August 19, 7-9 PM at the Old Bee Cave School House

Whether you're a seasoned novelist or working on your first short story, find support and receive feedback from other area writers. If you wish, please bring 5 pages of any piece of fiction on which you are currently working to share with the group. Happy writing!

The Lake Travis Fiction Writers is an all-voluntary community of published and unpublished writers in love with the craft. It is our goal to facilitate and support writers by sharing resources, experiences, knowledge, and insights. Membership in the LTFW is open to everyone. The LTFW is not a commercial enterprise, nor do we publish the works of our members or others.

LOOKING FOR SCHOOL-REQUIRED READING?

We have a selection of books from school-required reading lists for LTISD elementary, middle, and high schools. Check our catalog for availability.

And don't forget to take time to read for fun, too!

A Note from the Library Director

This has been a summer for the record books, with more than 1,500 children participating in 2014's "Fizz Boom READ!" Summer Reading Program. Hundreds of posters line the library walls with the pictures of our readers holding their favorite book. Seeing their proud, smiling faces is always a highlight for library staff, knowing we helped another crop of eager kids learn to share our love of reading. Cate Sweeney (a/k/a Dr. Reads-A-Lot at right) put together a phenomenal series of science-themed programs this summer (check out the photos on the next page and on Facebook). I'd like to thank all the parents, grandparents, caregivers, and others who took the time and fought the heat to get the kids to and from the library to attend programs and check out books. Thank you, too, to our hard-working volunteers who made sure the 2,000 books that come in and out each day make it back on the shelves for the next reader to find. And a particularly heart-felt thank you to library staff who greeted patrons, helped locate books, took photos for posters, logged minutes, answered questions, retrieved holds, processed new books, and did so much more all while keeping us the friendliest library in Texas! Enjoy the rest of your summer, and Happy Reading!
